A Natural Remedy

Time was when disease was thought to be due to the direct influence of evil spirits, and exorcism and magic were invoked to cast it out.

Science has taught us wisdom. The evil spirits exist still. We call them "Disease Germs," and they also must be cast out. Once lodged in the stomach or intestines, fever with its hallucinations, or biliousness with its aches and pains, is the result.

ENO'S FRUIT SALT

is the approved remedy for driving out disease germs. Its action is quick and thorough. It clears the intestines, rouses the torpid liver to new life, stimulates the mucous membrane to a healthy action, and cleanses and invigorates the whole digestive tract.

It may be safely taken at any time by young or old.

It is very effective in the early stage of Diarrhoea by removing the irritating cause.

Be prepared for emergencies by always keeping a bottle in the house.

ANOTHER GHOST STORY.

MARCHESA AND THE BLOOD STAINED ROBE.

Mr. George H. Sims tells another ghost story in The Referee—just one, before the ghost season comes to an end. It happened, he says, to the late W. G. Wells, the painter and dramatist, and I heard him tell the story in Wilson Barr's dressing-room at the Princess's just before the production of Claudius. "Wills was a real Bohemian of the Bohemian days that are no more. He snatched his fingers at conventions, smoked a clay pipe, dressed in his oldest clothes for choice, and didn't trouble about a collar. So far as I remember, Wills had been spending a portion of the winter in an Italian town. He had rooms in a dilapidated old building which had formerly been the palace of a nobleman. The proprietor was the nobleman whose ancestors had inhabited it. But times were bad, and money was scarce, so the nobleman placed an old woman in charge of the place, and she 'took in lodgers' and rented the rooms to her master. The old lady had a daughter, a very beautiful girl, and Wills was so charmed by her appearance that he wanted to point her out."

OLD PALACE HAUNTED.

The girl modestly commented. But one morning, after the sitting was over and Wills was about to go out, the girl asked him, in the broken English that she spoke, if he could not stop at a hotel that night, as her mother wanted to turn his rooms out and give them a thorough cleaning, and she could not have them ready for him again till the next day. Wills was astonished, but he explained that he hated "tidying up," and the rooms as they were were quite all right. Then the girl-coloured, and said: "But, sir, once a year this old palace is haunted by a ghost, and the room that the ghost comes to is the one you are sleeping in. That is why we do not want you to be in it. You would be terrified by what you would see." Wills laughed, and said that if a ghost came he should be delighted. He had never seen one and it would be a new experience. "Ah, well," exclaimed the girl, "I have warned you. Whatever happens you must not blame us."

Fearing certain that the ghost was a legend and nothing more, Wills went to bed that night and settled himself to sleep. He woke up at the clock of a neighbouring church was striking two. When he opened his eyes he was conscious of something strange in his room. He sat up in bed and, as his eyes got accustomed to the semi-darkness, he saw the figure of a woman robed in white.

SHE WAS APPARENTLY

There was a candle by his bedside and matches. Wills struck a match and lighted the candle. Then he distinctly saw the apparition of a tall, graceful-looking woman with a pale face and luminous black eyes. There was a blood-stain on the ghost's white garment just over the heart. The author's first thought was that the landlady's daughter was playing him a trick. He leapt out of bed, put out his hand to clutch the ghost, and instantly it vanished. He tried the door. It was bolted inside, as he himself had bolted it. The window blinds were down and the curtains drawn, but the woman in white had disappeared.

Wills did not go to bed again. He lit his pipe and smoked till the candle went out. Then he opened the window and let the moonlight in and waited for the dawn. Then, feeling safe from further ghostly attentions, he went to sleep. When the old lady brought him his coffee in the morning she eyed him curiously if he had had a good night. "Not particularly," replied Wills. "A woman in white got into my room last night, and I lay awake wondering how she got in and how she got out. I didn't see the door open or shut."

THE NEW KIAOCHOW BUDGET.

One or two interesting particulars concerning the new Budget for the German Protectorate of Kiaochow reach us from Berlin, says the "London and China Express." As in the previous year, amongst the items of expenditure are measures for the protection of German interests in regard to the political and social life. In the present Budget, however, only a sum of m.1,400,000 is provided, as against m.1,700,000 for the current year. The projected measures consist principally in a reinforcement of the East Asiatic marine detachments. As regards the ordinary objects of expenditure, they include harbour works, dredging, afforestation, the provision of beacons, surveying, enlargement of the electric works, the establishment of a cotton press in Tsingtau, and works for the opening and development of the protectorate; "new items include provision for the auxiliary depot and the building of sheds for drying material. One interesting project planned is the enlargement of the educational institutions for Chinese scholars, so that in the year 1915 as many as 500 scholars can be received. For this purpose, and in order to further raise the standard of teaching, the Kiaochow Government has decided to considerably higher means are provided. As regards the revenue, the figure of direct taxes is higher in consequence of a new assessment of land property. Other sources of income, such as customs, are also growing with the continued development of the territory. The introduction of a tax on alcohol is contemplated, which will bring in for the coming year, it is estimated, a sum of m. 60,000. On the other hand, a smaller revenue from land sales has to be reckoned with, as these will be returning to their normal level from the abnormal conditions that were brought about by the extraordinary demand for land by the Chinese in the last two years. A balance of m. 1,400,000 is brought into the present Budget from the financial year 1912, and in consequence the Imperial contribution to the colony's revenue can be reduced to m. 500,000 as against m. 550,000 for the current year.

THE BRITISH ARMY.

STRENGTH LOWEST FOR A DECADE.

London, March 4.

The Annual Report of the British Army shows that on October 1 the Regimental strength was 247,250, which is the lowest during the past decade, and, compared with the 253,702 of 1912, there is shown a deficiency of 6,452.

The strength of the Territorials is 246,000, showing a deficiency of 64,969. The disappointing recruiting is attributed to increased competition by the Navy and the working of Government Labour Exchanges, the continued activity in trade and also to emigration.

SCENE IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

London, Mar. 4.

A scene occurred in the House of Commons on Lord Robert Cecil's motion to reduce the Supplementary Naval Estimates.

Mr. Leif Jones (Lib. Buschiff Division, Notts) attempted to speak amid persistent opposition cries of "Divide" and "Ministerial protests."

Mr. Churchill appealed to both sides not to discuss the Navy with Party host, as members were only anxious to divide in order to ascertain whether there were more Liberals than Conservatives present. The Chairman called Mr. Churchill to order, and Mr. Churchill apologized.

The motion was defeated by 272 to 192.

A similar Budget motion was rejected by 237 to 31.

The Estimates Adopted.

The House of Commons have adopted the Supplementary Estimates.

London, March 4.

The Budget Committee of the Reichstag has approved of the vote of £1,570,000 for the Tabora-Ruanda Railway in German East Africa.

THE MEXICAN OUTRAGES.

Further Details.

London, March 3.

There was a prolonged conference between President Wilson and Mr. Bryan, after which the latter informed Sir Cecil Spring-Rice that the Committee of Investigation had been temporarily abandoned, General Carranza's declaration that Britain should deal with the matter direct having complicated the situation.

Questions in the Commons.

Answering questions in the House of Commons, Mr. Adair said that Mr. Bryan considered it would not be safe for the Benton Inquiry Committee to proceed any further at present.

Owing to the prevalence of a blizzard, says a telegram from Washington, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice was compelled to utilise the naval wireless installation in order to telegraph to the Foreign Office. He telegraphed via the Eiffel Tower notifying a delay of several days of the Embassy's dispatches.

The Fate of Bauch.

General Villa has intimated, says a telegram from Chihuahua, that to the best of his belief the German-American named Bauch, who, it was alleged, had been executed by General Villa, is dead. He adds that Bauch was liberated at Ciudad Juarez, and doubtless he has been assassinated.

PORTUGAL AND HER COLONIES.

"Sphere of Influence" Scoffed At.

London, March 3.

Reuter's Lisbon correspondent telegraphs that in the Chamber, the Premier, replying to a question whether it was true that an Anglo-German agreement, concerning a German sphere of influence in Portuguese Colonies had been signed, said that such reports were impertinence. Portugal welcomed foreign enterprise in the Colonies, but it was for Portugal alone to fix the sphere of action for such enterprise, if acceptable.

London, March 3.

The salvage of the sunken submarine A7 has now been definitely abandoned. A memorial service will be held on the scene of the disaster on Thursday.

Reuter's New York correspondent telegraphs that the gamester Sylvester has been indefinitely imprisoned for a period extending from 33 to 61 years and has been fined 1000 dollars for placing a bomb in the hall of a crowded tenement house.

The evidence revealed that there had been wholesale bomb-placing for the sake of obtaining the insurance money.

THE HOME RULE STATEMENT.

TO BE MADE ON MONDAY.

London, Mar. 4.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Asquith announced that the completion of the financial business had been arranged, and that consequently he would be able to make the promised Home Rule statement on Monday.

Under the Parliamentary Act, Mr. Balfour, for the third time, will formally introduce the Home Rule Bill to-morrow for first reading. It will, however, not be discussed until after Mr. Asquith's statement on Monday, when only the leaders will speak. Two or three weeks will elapse before the second reading will be begun in order that all parties may be able to digest the matter.

ROYAL BETROTHALS.

London, Mar. 4.

Important betrothals are impending: the Crown Prince of Greece to Princess Elizabeth of Romania and the Crown Prince of Rumania to a daughter of the Tsar.

BRITISH POLITICS.

The Unionists "Solemn Covenant."

London, March 3.

The Unionist papers describe the manifesto as a new and solemn covenant, and the Liberal papers speak of it as "Miller's League." The declaration concludes with the words: "If the Bill is passed, I hold myself justified in taking or supporting any action that may be effective to prevent it being put into operation, and more particularly to prevent the forces of the Crown being used to deprive the people of Ulster of their rights as citizens of the United Kingdom."

SUFFRAGETTES AND THE KING.

What They Intend To Do.

London, March 3.

Several of the deported South African labour leaders attended a meeting of the anti-labour suffragettes at Knightsbridge, when Mrs. Dacre Fox announced that the King had not yet replied to Mrs. Pankhurst's request to receive a deputation. If His Majesty was unwise enough to refuse, the deputation would go in any case.

DISASTROUS BLIZZARD AT NEW YORK.

A band of unemployed seized the Presbyterian Church in Fifth Avenue and refused to leave until a collection had been made on their behalf. Many churches are sheltering the homeless.

THE ARREST OF A MISSIONARY.

Statement in the House of Commons.

London, March 3.

In the House of Commons, Mr. Asquith, Under Secretary for Foreign Affairs, said that the Minister at Lisbon had been instructed to impress upon the Portuguese Government the seriousness of the case of Mr. Bowskill, the missionary who is now under arrest in the Portuguese Congo. The Portuguese Government had afforded all facilities to the British Consul at Bona to make inquiries on the spot.

The British Consul at Loanda states that the Governor-General has telegraphed to the Governor of the Portuguese Congo, who is en route to San Salvador, instructions for the immediate release of Mr. Bowskill; unless there are strict legal reasons for his detention.

MONGOLIA AND RUSSIA.

Peculiar Incident.

London, March 3.

Telegrams from Urga state that the Hutukhu declined to receive the Russian Diplomatic Agent on the Mongolian New Year's Day, on the ground of illness. The Russian authorities apparently made drastic representations, for a semi-official message since received states that all the Mongolian Ministers have apologized and honours have been rendered to the Russian flag.

London, Mar. 4.

Bombardier Wells beat Bandman Blake in the fourth round for the Heavy Weight Championship of Great Britain.

The Fight Described.

In the first round both Wells and Blake manoeuvred warily and some fighting took place. Wells broke clear, and made the Bandman wince with the left and right.

The second round was uneventful. In the third round a clinch followed two rushes by Blake, but Wells had the better of matters, getting good punches home. Blake became "groggy," but rallied magnificently before the gong went.

In the fourth round, Wells broke away and after a clinch showered blows on Blake's head, finally sending the Bandman to the mat.

SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE SUED.

An Interpleader Action.

The Captain Superintendent of Police (Hon. Mr. McI. Messer) in his official capacity was defendant in an interpleader action heard in the Summary Court this morning by the Puisne Judge.

The action was brought by one Liu Fu, who claimed the return of notes of the value of $225 seized by the police.

Mr. P. W. Goldring (of Messrs. Goldring and Ruse), appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. Reader Harris (of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grant) represented another claimant of the money.

Mr. Harris submitted that this action should never have been brought against the Captain Superintendent, for immediately he heard there were two claimants for the money he paid it into Court and left it for the Court to decide who had the best title to it. It was obvious from the affidavit made by the Superintendent that the money belonged to his client, because it had been taken by the police from his client, when he was arrested on a charge of stealing it from the other plaintiff. This action was dismissed.

Mr. Goldring said he received notice from his friend that the Captain Superintendent would pay the money over to Mr. Harris' client if he did not make any claim, hence these proceedings.

His Lordship, after hearing the argument, intimated that he was inclined to remit the plaintiff as the case stood, but he consented to hear further argument by Mr. Goldring on Friday.

Boxing.

We understand that a Boxing Tournament, between the Army and Navy, to which Major-General Kelly, Vice-Admiral Jerram and Commodore Anstruther, have given their patronage, will shortly take place in the City Hall.

The Secretary of the Victoria Recreation Club informs us that neither he nor any of the Committee of the V.R.C. are aware of any Boxing Tournament to take place there on Saturday, 14th inst., or on any other day.
